Presented by Cressey, Hensley is a vision of light and air on the skyline of Metro Vancouver's new urban heart – West Coquitlam.

This statement tower is anchored by five distinct columns, which escalate thirty-three storeys to culminate in an unprecedented glass-enclosed penthouse amenity space spanning three storeys into the sky.

The collection of fresh, modern residences includes a limited selection of Skyhomes – stunning two-level residences with expansive and seamless indoor-outdoor living spaces.

Residents' lifestyles are enhanced by a ground-level health club with an outdoor pool, hot tub, and cabanas, complemented by steam and sauna rooms and a fully-equipped fitness centre. At the apex of the structure, expansive indoor and outdoor space offers an unparalleled amenity experience. Positioned on a natural rise, the mountain views are extraordinary.

Hensley's outstanding location in rapidly growing West Coquitlam connects residents to community, near and far. Conveniences, such as shops and services, are close at Lougheed Town Centre. Here, a SkyTrain station links you to stops on the Evergreen, Millennium, and Expo lines in Vancouver, New Westminster, Coquitlam, Port Moody, and Surrey. Opportunities for recreation and nature also surround the tower. Everywhere is near when you live at Hensley.

Cressey's 48-year commitment to develop enriching communities with superior design and quality construction continues at Hensley.

We believe in a collaborative process, which leads to thoughtful attention to detail and visionary architecture. These forward-thinking principles have resulted in the CresseyKitchen™, a revolutionary approach to enhancing functionality in the most important room of your home. No two Cressey buildings are the same, but our philosophy that guides them always is.
