Air purification systems improve home air quality and protect your health

Luxury Living Purified

O2 is inspired by the principles of the WELL Building Standard. This is wellness grounded in science, incorporating design features that measurably improve air quality, water purity—and your overall health.

Redefining what it means to live well

O2 is a first-of-its-kind living experience: 285 one- to three-bedroom homes where health is at the forefront and wellness is integrated into every aspect of the design. Our environment affects our physical and mental wellbeing—and this is a community where evidence-based building techniques tangibly improve our health. Located in the heart of Metrotown, O2 is a confident step in the evolution of this neighbourhood. This is a sophisticated wellness community where vibrant parks, pedestrian-friendly walking trails and elevated amenities support a healthy, intentional lifestyle.

A bold commitment to innovation

THE DEVELOPER

Keltic is a Canadian developer harnessing the inherent power of design to help people live healthier, happier lives. We challenge long-held assumptions to bring about real, measurable improvements to the communities and homes we build.

KELTIC

On average, we spend 90% of our time indoors.* Buildings and interior spaces have a major influence on our health outcomes—and every design decision has the potential to benefit our wellbeing

Sophisticated Wellness Features in Every Home

A breath of fresh air

AIR PURIFICATION SYSTEM

Air quality is essential to our overall health and the air in our home can affect us in the short and long-term. An air purification system is standard in every home at O2, so that each breath you take is fresh, filtered and better for your wellbeing.
